

Natal chart and interpretation for T.
15 December 1967 6:13PM

23 Sagittarius Sun 6th house

Sagittarius, if found on the sixth house, usually brings a tone of optimism and help to the workplace. The native is fortunate in his/her field of work. The conditions and relations with fellow workers are generally favorable and constructive. There is luck on the job with your Sun in the sixth house you're service-oriented, and enjoy attending to the needs of others. It is important, however, that you do indeed find your way of serving others, for your sense of purpose needs that particular direction in life to feel fulfilled, and in helping others you will shine. A good worker, you're always thinking of things and caring for people. You're very discriminating and can sort out the good apples from the bad. Humility and cooperation are the lessons here with your Sun in the sixth house. Physical well-being is important: the sixth house is the house of health and the Sun in this position often lacks the vitality of other houses, so take care of your body! As a sixth house Sun Sag, you may find problems with your hips, thighs, liver or hepatic system.

22 Cancer, Ascendant 1st house:

22 degrees of Cancer is a promise of wealth. Even if you are not right now, you will be at some point in this lifetime, wealthy.

These people come across as gentle creatures. There's something familiar about them -- they're the guy or gal next door. When they enter a room, they don't walk in with a splash. Instead, they move to the sides and weave their way inwards. These people have a familiar feel to them. Because they are rather sensitive to their environment, they can get flustered easily, especially in public.

Their first instinct, when threatened or on unfamiliar ground, is to protect themselves. When new situations present themselves, they can immediately withdraw or act shy. Generally, these people come across as caring people. They seem quite sweet -- even innocent. Usually, these people appear unassuming enough to be quite approachable. Some Cancer Ascendants, however, have retreated into themselves so much as to be quite the opposite.

Since Capricorn is on the Descendant, Cancer Ascendant people are looking for structure and security in their partner and their relationship. These people function best when their partner displays strength, financial and emotional stability, and know-how. In fact, many Cancer Ascendants prefer it when their relationship has well-defined rules. Security is the basic need, and they are generally more than willing to give up some personal freedom in order to get it. In some cases, Cancer Ascendant people can surprise their partners. Why? Because they come across as rather unassuming, family-oriented people. When it comes to marriage, they have a rather matter-of-fact, practical approach.

12 Gemini Moon 11th house:

Witty and charming, Gemini Moon is fun and pleasant to hang out with. Their twin aspect also makes them moody and irritable, though. If you can put up with the constant switch from one to the other, you will find that they are very interesting people to be around. They like to have a hand in everything, are usually well-informed and are the basis for the saying "curiosity killed the cat." Their inquisitiveness is all-encompassing. Like other air signs, the Moon Sign Gemini is adept at saying what they think is expected before they have a chance to think about it. They may also imitate others' behavior if they think it is more acceptable than just being themselves.

Gemini Moon needs a lot of stimulation to keep their interest. They are either, talking, reading or thinking... they never stop. They bore easily. You may notice they are somewhat restless, and may worry incessantly or appear to be perpetually nervous. Since they are more likely to reason things than feel them, they are capable of handling anxiety, worry and sorry better than others.

Sociable and friendly, Gemini Moon has a talent with words. They have a great imagination and always have way too many irons in the fire. Some may tend to pay too much attention to what everyone else is doing and forget what they needed to take care of. They often have artistic talents if they can be persuaded to stick with it and develop them. They may pick up one interest, only to drop it a week later for another. No matter what they end up doing, they need an outlet for creativity. They also need contact with others. Social interaction is needed like they need air... they can't survive without it.

Gemini Moon is a great organizer, even though inside they may be unsettled. While they are very open-minded, their ability to make a decision suffers for it. Even so, the versatility and adaptability that they have is an exceptional trait. Monotony is their worst fear. They prefer change and adventure. If they have a problem, they want to talk it out. They like to analyze their problems, which can make them look detached. In fact, they may feel more comfortable talking about their feelings than experiencing them. Because of this, it is common for this Sign to often feel misunderstood. If you have a friend with a Moon Sign Gemini, they will want to help you solve your problems in the fastest, most clever way they can manage. Be prepared to be peppered with questions so they can get all the facts.

When in a relationship, they are loyal and loving. Their problem is that those they may be attracted to physically may not stimulate them intellectually, and vice versa. While they don't like being tied down and demand a certain amount of freedom, once they have made up their mind to commit, they're in it for the long haul.

16 Sagittarius Mercury 5th house:

Freedom of thought is what Mercury in Sagittarius strives for -- at least in theory. These people communicate in an optimistic, forward-looking manner. Their ideas are generally very big, but it's probably wise to use tact when you see all the little holes in their arguments. Remember, they mean well. These people have vision.

Not always thrilled about focusing on details, Mercury in Sagittarius people prefer to expand their mental horizons through thinking and reading about larger subjects, like philosophy. Their thirst for knowledge can be insatiable, but they have little patience with dry academics or cold, hard facts. Theirs is a restless intellect. They learn best when they are given the freedom to think for themselves, when they are truly interested in the topic at hand, and when the things they're learning are fun.

Even though their definition of justice might bewilder some, Mercury in Sagittarius defends justice and freedom religiously. They generally have a whole slew of principles they follow, or at least defend in conversation, and they'll gladly discuss them all with you.

Their optimism is both their strength and their weakness. After a conversation with these people, you'll probably feel stimulated and invigorated. They make life a little better for their positive, optimistic outlook. But sometimes that optimism can be a little blind to reality.

Organization, too, is not a forte of Mercury in Sagittarius. Who has the time for organizing anyway? When the clutter around them gets too unbearable, they're given to trashing or piling things instead of putting them in their rightful places. They do appreciate lots of room, or at least the illusion of space, when they're working, studying, or thinking. So, their office might look alright at first glance. Open up a drawer or a closet, however, and you might find it's bursting its seams.

Conversations with Mercury in Sagittarius are always interesting. You can't help but admire their enthusiasm. At their worst, they take to preaching instead of conversing. This may not be intentional, and can get Mercury in Sagittarius into all kinds of trouble nonetheless. A good debate is hard for people with this position to pass up. Mercury in Sagittarius natives think they are very open-minded--and they are in spots--but they can come across as quite moralistic at times too. They'll be the first to spot bias or prejudice in everyone else's communication, but they can be a little blind to their own. They're not always the best listeners, either, and not adept at picking up the subtleties in your conversation. Bluntness of speech is a trademark of Mercury in Sagittarius. These people get impatient with indirectness and beating around the bush. It baffles them. It may even piss them off for a while. A sure-fire way to get under their skin is to play mind games with them. They may not always pick up on the game-playing at first, but when they do, they won't be amused.

When they're not fired up about some issue or another, these people are fun-loving. They love to laugh, and it's usually pretty easy to get them giggling.

09 Scorpio Venus 5th house:

Venus in Scorpio people attract others with their intensity and willingness to commit. They have a strong and concentrated manner which suggests their feelings run deep. Their actions in love tend to promise deep commitment and sexual pleasure, even if they are not telling you this directly. Their appeal lies in their focus on you, and their dedication. Venus in Scorpio seems fearless when it comes to intimacy. Potential lovers get the feeling that Venus in Scorpio will never stray, that they are intensely loyal to the one they love. They possess you, and somehow make it seem attractive to be possessed.

Venus in Scorpio men and women give you their complete attention. These people are very focused on their partners. Depending on your personality, you may find this unnerving or entirely flattering. They have a strong need to control their partner, although this won't be immediately apparent, and they may not ever admit to this. Their body-and-soul love and commitment can be so intense that it eclipses fun and makes loving them a very heavy experience. Their emotion and intensity may seem overdone to those looking for a more lighthearted relationship. These people take things to extremes, and can be very provocative. Although they want to explore all of your nooks and crannies, they won't always be forthcoming with their own. When you've upset these lovers, you'll know it. Depending on the moment, Venus in Scorpio will shoot you one of the most piercing glares around, or totally blow up. Whichever style they choose, a slighted Scorpio lover is not a pretty sight. These people can be jealous of all of your attachments, but few will admit it. They're not afraid of being underhanded in matters of the heart, and they are experts at cutting through all the fluff and seeing you for what you are. Still, you may find their conclusions about you seem skewed and mistrustful.

Pleasing Venus in Scorpio involves demonstrating your complete commitment and loyalty to them. Appreciate their guts when it comes to love and intimacy -- they're proud of their courage in these matters. If you can, and they're deserving, relinquish some of the control in the relationship. Let them feel they own you, without taking it to extremes. Remember, though, that some Venus in Scorpio lovers can and will take advantage of you on a subtle level, if only to keep you all to themselves. Let them have their secrets and their silences.

10 Aquarius Mars 7th house:

It can be a little difficult to understand exactly what makes a Mars in Aquarius native tick. And that's absolutely fine with them as they enjoy surprising people. The tried-and-true methods of getting things done are far too boring for those born with Mars in this unique and original sign. Mars in Aquarius natives often have a rather original view of the world as well. Better times of any year for you to realize your goals include when the Sun is in your Jupiter sign, Virgo, and when the Sun is in fellow Earth signs, Taurus and Capricorn.

These natives are generally quite proud of their independence. They are not easily pushed around with Mars in this fixed sign. Because Aquarius is progressive and open-minded when it comes to the world at large, it can be surprising that on a personal level, Mars in Aquarius natives can be quite obstinate. If they feel boxed in, they are quite likely to rebel. If you've discovered a pattern to their ways, they'll make sure they aren't so predictable the next time around. Being seen as normal simply won't do! With Mars, the planet of energy and drive, in an air sign, these individuals get off on mental and intellectual pursuits. Aquarius is a somewhat scattered sign, even though it's persevering in the long haul. If there's a method to their madness, it isn't always easy to see. Projects are taken on with a shotgun-style approach with this position of Mars.

Mars in Air signs are generally quite clever at getting what they want; in Aquarius, they are particularly adept at getting their way. While this is not an overtly aggressive position of Mars (Aquarius has a manner that is far too detached to come across too forcefully), it is very willful. Combine willfulness with the cleverness of an Air sign, and you have a person who is quite creative about getting what they want, which generally is getting their way! Unlike with Mars in Aries or Leo natives, for example, you won't always know you're being dominated by a Mars in Aquarius native!

One of the most pleasant characteristics of Mars in Aquarius natives is their willingness to let others be. They place a lot of value in freedom and individuality—theirs and yours. They need space to be themselves and plenty of room to breathe. Generally not the touchy-feely types, these natives often laugh at sentimentality and tradition. In personal relationships, their approach to intimacy is definitely on the detached side, which can be baffling and frustrating to more personal and affectionate personalities.

Of all the personal planets in the sign of Aquarius, Mars placed here can show the strongest reformer streak. The Aquarian ideal of equality works big time with this position, and the desire to push their agenda on others, usually in creative, rather than aggressive, ways, runs high. Obstinance and a superiority complex are this position's least desirable traits; openness to new ways of doing things, as long as they're not forced upon them, is where they shine.

5 Virgo, Jupiter 5th house:

Jupiter in Virgo individuals attract the most good fortune when they are helpful, honest, practical, orderly, and when they pay attention to details. The service industries, nutrition, and health are prosperous avenues.

As an Earth sign Jupiter, you are a practical realist who needs to visualize results in order to feel motivated to achieve them. You are a doer who is not easily lured by get rich quick schemes! You are not very much of a risk taker. You need direction, clear goals, and strong plans, and you value tangible results.

5 Aries, Saturn 10th house:

While Saturn in Aries may cause a delayed development of ambition in their life, they may end up taking on a lot of responsibility when still very young. Obstacles arise that may block progress. Having to assert themselves can cause a lot of anxiety. Anger may be an issue, although others see them as controlled and cool the majority of the time. Aries Saturn can create a sense of responsibility for oneself, though they may lack confidence. They don't like risks, which may make them appear weak. Some may overcompensate by taking risks that seem foolhardy.

Saturn in Aries may miss out on some opportunities due to their caution. They learn to choose their battles and face the necessary ones with courage. They feel like they won't get what they want from life, but then, they often don't ask. They may be shy or withdrawn. Conversely, they may also be in your face. They are afraid of failure and rejection. Their frustration with their own inner conflicts may cause them to seek to understand themselves.

Aries Saturn can have good concentration and reasoning skills. They may be a bit suspicious of those who are above them at work or school. They may try to force their ideas of right and wrong on others, as they have an innate need to be in control of every situation. They need skills in self-sufficiency and self-reliance to succeed. It is well for them to develop a nice social persona to help them overcome any feelings of self-doubt or fear and face life's challenges with confidence.

Physical exercise is important for Saturn in Aries to ward off circulatory issues. They may be prone to congestion which can cause headaches due to the restricted flow. They also want to be sure and drink enough water to flush out their kidneys to prevent problems.

Aries Saturn needs to learn what is worth the effort and what is not. Deciding which opportunities are worth the time needed is a skill that will lead them to success or ruin. They may experience a nice balance between impulsiveness and caution.

29 Virgo, Uranus 3rd house:

Uranus was in Virgo only seven years since the 1800's, from August 1962 through September 1968. Souls born during this period are concerned with the healing power of nature and of the mind over the body, as well as natural foods and organic gardening. This is also a good placement for inventors, scientists, and advanced medical researchers, for the ability to analyze and to discriminate is strong here. Uranus, the planet of change, in Virgo, ruling the "little people" and minorities, symbolizes the civil rights movement in this country, and third world revolutions all over the globe. Individually, you find new ways to serve others and have unique insights into diet, health, ecology and conservation. Interested in new or alternate life styles, you are economy personified, always able to salvage and redeem anything. You like to tend and care for people and things, and relax by working. Uranus returns to each sign once every 84 years.

25 Scorpio, Neptune 5th house:

Neptune(Scorpio) in the 5th house indicates a dreamy romantic character. These people are usually very inspired or creative and have a deep interest in the performing arts and drama.

There is a deep desire for love and romance, and these people are usually very idealistic regarding love. They may indulge in secret romances or clandestine love affairs, or they may have many peculiar relationships. Disappointments in love are also likely, if this person does not rationalize their ideals.

The children are likely to be sensitive, intuitive, artistic types. They may adopt children or decide never to have any at all.

22 Virgo, Pluto 3rd house:

Pluto was in Virgo for everyone on Earth from October 1956 to October 1971 (and again in April through July 1972 as well), the first time since 1720. Since Pluto is considered to be exalted in Pisces, it is therefore thought to be in its "fall" in Virgo, meaning that Virgo is Pluto's weakest sign position. I feel that this assignation is rather experimental with Pluto, and that the sign attributes of dignity and exaltation are in general not that individually significant for the outer planets. Since Virgo is the last of the personal signs whose hallmark is self-adjustment, souls born during this 14-year period have been given many experiences to purge and purify egocentric self-importance, and to learn greater humility. The sixties saw a sea change in our relationship to health and well-being, with revolutionary emphases on natural foods, life styles, and holistic and naturopathic health practices; and a rededication to the Earth goddess and her teachings. Individuals with this placement tend to be radical when it comes to self-analysis, health care, food, and physical well-being; and many find that serving and caring for themselves and others become their sources of inner growth and change.
