

Sagittarius
December 2011

December opens on a note of regeneration and renewal, dear Sagittarius. Though you may still be trying to recover from last month's setbacks, have faith. Your finances or emotional security may have taken a blow, but you are able to charm, negotiate, persuade or just plain outsmart the situation and you are turning things around for yourself, personally, professionally and financially. I would advise keeping a close eye on your holiday spending this year as your innate generosity will have you wanting to spend freely on your loved ones, and this could complicate your budget!

The month begins with Saturn and Neptune joining forces on your behalf. Saturn is still in your friends, committees, professional associations, networking, and internet sector trying to teach you life lessons about these topics. With Neptune in your business and communications sector, you may experience a bit of magic in these areas. Together, Saturn and Neptune combine logic and intuition in a lovely manner. To begin with, this is a wonderful time for social gatherings, business networking, and for using the internet to stay in touch and improve your commercial activities. Buying, selling, bargain hunting, bartering, and negotiating with friends and colleagues is easier with Saturn and Neptune's help. Neptune's influence also makes this a good time for home-based internet activities.

Through December 9th, Venus in your house of personal wealth and self-esteem is blending nicely with Mars in your house of career success and recognition. The words or actions of a male employer or authority figure may be negatively impacting you at this time, but try to push through this. Their influence is limited and of a short duration. Try not to waste too much time or energy on them.

December 3rd, 4th and 5th see Mercury wading into this hot mess and adding an argumentative energy to an already irritating situation. If possible, bite your tongue and wait until cooler heads prevail, as arguing will only make you look bad!

December 10th hosts the full moon lunar eclipse at 18 degrees of Gemini in your house of marriage and partnerships. Under this intense eclipse energy, something is coming to an end. You may finish a contracted project, or end a dysfunctional relationship. You may be seeing the end of your marriage or perhaps the end of your days as a single person. Eclipses are the catalyst to change, dear Sagittarius, and change is upon you now! This is a favorable influence, so even if the word "change" strikes fear in your heart, remember, some changes can be wonderful, even if they present themselves as uncomfortable at first.

From December 11th through the 16th, Mercury and Uranus are creating a smart, funny, and charming energy for everyone to use. Mercury is in Sagittarius in your sector of self. Uranus is still in your personal pleasure romance, and happiness sector. Together, they encourage you to have fun, and enjoy your life, dear Sagittarius. Since Mercury rules computers and Uranus rules the internet, you could find that online activities could be part of your joyful experiences. They also help you to negotiate some excellent deals if you are trying to purchase luxury items, expensive toys or vacations.

December 13th will see Mercury stand direct, giving us the nod to purchase those electronic and big ticket Christmas gifts we wisely held back on earlier in the month!

Venus begins an argument with Saturn from December 16th through the 20th. Venus is in your personal wealth and self-worth sector, with Saturn in your friends and internet sector. You and a friend, business associate or internet entity are disagreeing about money. Membership dues, personal loans or monthly fees could be costing too much. Possibly you did some work for one of these groups/entities and now they are not paying you in a timely manner. Either way, your finances are being negatively affected. You also need to be especially careful when conducting financial transactions online.

Fortunately for you, Neptune and Jupiter team up in the same time frame and work together for your benefit, dear Sagittarius! Neptune is already working nicely with Saturn, and Jupiter is already opposing Saturn. With Neptune and Jupiter teaming up together, we see communications, negotiations, diplomacy, creative brainstorming, little white lies, and even sheer dumb luck helping you to find solutions to your internet, business, or committee related work issues.

From December 19th through the 25th, the sun steps into a location where he is able to help Neptune create peace between Jupiter and Saturn. Jupiter and Saturn are still in opposition concerning business networking, teamwork, work-related internet activities, and group dynamics at work. However, Neptune is in your negotiations and communications sector trying to help smooth things over and now the sun is in your wealth and self-confidence sector adding assistance. You could find that a confident sales pitch, strong financial negotiations, or persuasiveness helps to smooth things over.

From December 20th through the 25th, the sun is clashing with Uranus. The sun is in your personal wealth and self-worth sector. While Uranus is still in your personal pleasure, romance and happiness sector, your financial goals and your playtime activities are clashing. You cannot afford to splurge on luxury items, vacations, holiday outings and gifts for the children the way that you would like to. Last minute shopping could end up costing you quite a bit more than your budget can afford.

December 24th hosts a new moon in your 2nd house of personal wealth, and self-worth. The two weeks that follow are a good time to start financial goals, begin receiving a new salary or wage, or create a new revenue stream. It is a good time for launching goals, projects, and ideas that could help you achieve your financial goals. This new moon is aided and enhanced by the positive energies involving Saturn, Neptune, and Jupiter. You could find that your career, social life and internet activities are helping you to achieve this new financial goal. However, you still need to be really careful when splurging and spending, dear Sagittarius.

The year ends on a positive note with the sun and Pluto traveling as partners through your personal wealth and self-worth sector. Pluto brings commissions, royalties, investments, and other forms of profit sharing into your personal wealth sector. The sun brings enthusiasm, optimism, and helps to shed some light on whatever financial goals you are working towards.

Merry Christmas and the happiest of holidays to you, my dear Sagittarius. My wish for you in the coming year is abundance and prosperity.
