

Scorpio
December 2012

December opens with Saturn and Neptune joining forces on your behalf, dear Scorpio. With Saturn in your 12th house of secrets and Neptune in your 4th house of home they combine logic and intuition and allow you to bring a sense of compassion, forgiveness, and inner peace to your home environment.

From December 1st to the 9th, the Sun in your house of personal wealth, net worth and self-worth, is clashing with Mars in your friends, clubs, professional associations and internet sector. A club, gym membership, personal loan, or monthly fee could be costing you too much. Or perhaps one of these entities has over charged you, or you did work for them and now they are not paying you in a timely fashion. In any event, your finances are now being negatively impacted. You also need to be extra careful when conducting online financial transactions.

December 3rd, 4th and 5th see Mercury wading into the fracas and lending an argumentative energy. You may be spending time on the phone arguing for your refund or your monies due!

December 10th, dear Scorpio hosts the full moon lunar eclipse at 18 degrees of Gemini in your 8th house of joint finances, investments, inheritances, commissions trust issues and intimacy. Full moon eclipses are grand finales and endings, so at this time, something is drawing to a close. It could be a source of income is ending, as in a job or a final payment of some kind. Alternatively, this is a good time to complete financial planning projects involving inheritances, taxes, stock portfolios and investments, or successfully negotiate a deal pertaining to profit sharing or royalties. Eclipses have a profound effect on us and may prompt you to end a dysfunctional relationship or inspire you to achieve a significant financial goal. In any event, while there will be change, there is no need to presume it will be a bad one.

From December 11th to February 6th, Jupiter in your house of marriage partnerships and rivals opposes Saturn in your house of secrets, addictions and emotions. This energy could see a partner or rival upset about secrets you have kept, addictions, self-destructive behaviors or possibly about bureaucratic red tape and policies. Conversely, it could be you upset about these issues pertaining to a partner. Saturn can bring on depression or bitterness in this alignment, so do try to guard against it.

December 13th sees Mercury standing direct. Now is the time to purchase those electronics and big ticket Christmas gifts you wisely held off on purchasing earlier in the month, dear Scorpio.

Venus in your 3rd house of business and communications will clash with Saturn in your house of secrets from December 16th to the 20th. Under this influence dysfunctional family dynamics can take center stage. Secrets, lies and hidden agendas can cause problems for family friends or community members. You are likely to be in the middle of this, even if not the catalyst, the one to whom everyone turns for help and advice. It does not appear you will be happy about this.

December 17th to the 21st, the Sun in your house of personal wealth and self-esteem is sending happy vibes to Saturn in your house of secrets. This is a great time for financial activities pertaining to your long term goals, and to make sure you are doing nothing to sabotage your future success. It is also possible you could heal emotional wounds that lower your self-esteem.

From December 18th through the 22nd, Venus starts an argument with Jupiter. Venus is already battling Saturn, and Jupiter and Saturn are in an opposition. Now Venus is upsetting both ends of that opposition. Jupiter is in your partnerships and rivalries sector. Saturn is in your emotional, spiritual, and secrets sector. Now with Venus in your business and communications, all three clash with each other, and you could find that your spouse or partner is upset about your shopping habits, sales presentation, communication skills, time spent on the computer, negotiation techniques, level of commitment to the partnership, and/or your extended family. They could be complaining and saying that you are addicted to shopping or that you are being self-destructive in your choices or behaviors. It is also possible that emotional problems are adding to the drama between you and your partner or rival about your family, neighbors, or communications style. As you try to find a way to smooth things over, you might simply be having a really hard time finding the right words to say, dear Scorpio.

December 19th through the 25th sees the sun step into a location where he is able to help Neptune create peace between Jupiter and Saturn. Jupiter and Saturn are still in opposition concerning a lover, best friend, business partner, rival, enemy, or competitor that is causing depression, emotional distress, or self-destructiveness. Perhaps your partner/rival is somehow entangled in a bureaucratic mess and they are blaming you or somehow involving you in their mess. Or maybe the partner is worried about your mental health, addictions, or self-destructive ways. The good news is that Neptune is still in your home sector trying to help smooth things over and now the sun is entering your business and communications sector adding assistance. This could be a good time for you to begin resolving issues. It could be something as simple as you and a spouse or partner staying home and having a nice long heart-to-heart about things.

December 24th hosts a new moon in your business and communications sector. New moons are a blessing for fresh starts and new beginnings. This is a good time to acquire new cars, computers, telecommunication devices, and other types of electronics. It is also a good time for meeting new neighbors, for agreeing to a fresh start with relatives, or for moving into a new neighborhood. You can also use this time to launch new writing, speaking, negotiating, buying, selling, bartering, trading, or shopping projects. This new moon is being influenced by the positive energies involving Saturn, Neptune, and Jupiter. You could find that your partner supports this endeavor. You could also find that this new way of expressing yourself, getting around town, or dealing with local community members helps you to bust through whatever issues were negatively affecting your partnerships. The only thing not positively connected to this new beginning or new acquisition is your work sector. You might find that you have to buy a new car because your daily commute to work requires it. Perhaps you have to buy a new work computer or cell phone, because the old one was causing so much trouble and chaos for you and your coworkers or clients. Possibly you'll find that your job suffers even though you are happy with a new romantic commitment, or a new business partnership. The work issues might be causing this positive new beginning in your life or they just might be making things a bit more challenging. Do not allow work problems to stop you from making this new commitment or agreement, dear Scorpio.

The year draws to a close, dear Scorpio with the Sun and Pluto traveling together through your business and communications sector. Together, they encourage you to focus on these activities with passion, creativity, and persuasion. They also bring loyalty, profits, honesty, and depth of meaning to your various commitments and communications projects.

Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays to you and yours, dear Scorpio. I wish you peace in the year ahead.
