

Taurus
December 2011

As December opens, dear Taurus, you are still feeling the impact of the November 25th eclipse in Sagittarius. Quite likely you saw a financial gain as a result of it, and even if you do not have the money in hand at this moment rest assured you soon will. It will arrive as a single sum, not broken down in smaller amounts over time.

From December 1st through the 9th, the Sun and Mars are not getting along too well, an alignment that can cause trust issues for even the most stoic bull! With the Sun in your 8th house and Mars in your 5th, it seems you are dealing with issues of fidelity, joint finances, pets, children or sexual compatibility. Perhaps a child is acting up and can't be trusted at the moment? Or you think your partner is overspending for the holidays? Maybe a pet can't be trusted home alone all day?

December 3rd, 4th and 5th see Mercury joining the fracas adding argumentative energy to an already volatile mix! Try to keep a low profile and keep your tone civil.

December 10th features a full moon eclipse at 18 degrees of Gemini in your 2nd house. This eclipse will bring a financial ending. It can be the end of a contract, the closing of a bank account, paying off a debt, finalizing a loan, achieving a financial goal, or for some, the end of a job. Eclipses bring big energy so whatever happens it will be a big moment. Eclipses are often the catalyst to profound change, so be prepared!

Uranus, which has been retrograde since July 9th will now turn direct, also on December 10th. With the energy of this huge planet added to the mix, you will be seeing changes. Perhaps you have been bored at work, or have wanted a fresh challenge? Uranus is likely to give you a nice boost, dear Taurus!

December 13th sees Mercury standing direct again, so this is the time for purchasing those electronics and big-ticket items for Christmas! It will also be OK to begin new ventures, sign new contracts or start new relationships.

December 16th through the 21st see the Sun in your 8th house and Saturn in your 6th. It's a good time to give or receive bonuses, plan or buy insurances, do some financial planning or work on your will. Stocks and profit sharing are favored as well.

December 18th through the 22nd can see some ups and downs. With Jupiter in your 1st house making you think mostly about yourself and Saturn in your house of work, there are likely to be some ego battles in the workplace. Remember dear

Taurus, there is no "I" in TEAM, and you are not always right! Check your ego at the door during this set up and remember to give others a chance!

Venus leaves Capricorn on December 21st highlighting romance for you. With Jupiter turning direct in your sign, you will be the apple of everyone's eye!

The entire week of December 19th through the 26th favors travel, so if you are planning to go away for the holiday, it should be a wonderful trip. With the new moon on the 24th, you can expect the last two weeks of December to sparkle with new and exciting energy for you, dear Taurus.

Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays to you and yours. I wish you prosperity for the coming year.
