

Virgo
December 2011

As the month begins, you have decisions to make and home related issues to attend to. Though a desire to travel may beckon, you have details to take care of and financial issues may slow you down a bit as well!

Saturn is currently in your house of personal wealth, and self-esteem while Neptune is in your house of work and service. Through March, they are joining forces on your behalf to combine logic and intuition in such a way as to help you create new ways to achieve your financial and professional goals! You will accomplish much under this alignment and boost your self-esteem in the process, dear Virgo!

Through December 9th, Venus and Mars are in your 1st house of self and your 5th house of pleasure. Together, they create a lovely happy energy encouraging you to laugh and enjoy your life. They inspire you to play and indulge in pleasure activities, as well as promoting love and romance. The Sun in your 4th house of home joins this energy and can throw complications into the mix. You may be spending money on home repairs or upgrades, moves or relocations or perhaps family is causing upsets. The placement of Mars says you are likely to react with anger, especially around December 3rd, 4th and 5th when Mercury strolls by and adds her argumentative energy. Be careful of what you say and how you say it at this time, dear Virgo.

December 10th welcomes a full moon lunar eclipse at 18 degrees of Gemini in your house of fame and success. Eclipses bring much needed changes allowing us to progress further down our paths. They also bring endings, sometimes to dysfunctional relationships that serve no further purpose in our lives. This eclipse may remove a male authority figure, boss or otherwise limiting influence. You may finally complete a project, end a job or get rid of a relationship that has outlived its purpose. You may return to work after a long period of unemployment. This is a perfect time for accomplishing professional goals and moving on to the next step. Whatever this change is, it does not look to be a negative one, so dear Virgo, enjoy your success, and your time in the spotlight!

From December 11th to February 6th, Jupiter will sit in your house of long distance travel while Saturn opposes from your house of personal wealth. You may find yourself longing to travel, but short on funds as one possible scenario. You could find yourself needing legal representation, but find the fees associated with it exorbitant! You could find yourself seeking a publisher for your recently completed novel, but not be able to generate interest! Hang on dear Virgo, as things will begin to look up after February!

Mercury stands direct on December 13th, just in time for us to rush out and buy those electronics and big ticket Christmas gifts we wisely held off purchasing during the retrograde.

December 16th through the 20th, Saturn in your house of personal wealth clashes with Venus in your house of pleasure. Saturn will be making you feel the need for thrift at exactly the time you'd like to splurge and shower your loved ones with gifts. However, help is on the way in the form of Neptune sending friendly vibes to Jupiter! With Neptune's calming effect, you will be able to find sales and bargains on all the right gift items! Neptune may even help you find an amazing bargain on a flight or trip, just in time to soothe those itchy feet yearning to travel!

December 17th through the 21st sees the Sun and Saturn beginning to get along and play nicely. With the Sun in your home sector and Saturn still hovering over your personal wealth, real estate deals are favored. Deals can be reached, sales can be closed. If you want to move or relocate, this time frame makes it possible. This is a great time to negotiate mortgages, rental agreements or leases. It is also a good time for home improvement and upgrades. If you work from home, or as a private contractor of some kind, you may find revenues improving!

The Sun from its position in your house of pleasure starts to argue with Uranus in your house of joint assets and accounts, trust and fidelity from December 20th to the 25th. When these two areas of the zodiac begin clashing, we see extra-marital affairs come into the light, accusations of cheating and trust issues abound, arguments about money come up, and loans and tax bills come due. The burden of household bills may fall on you as your spouse does not hold up his or her end of things, and financial issues seem to suck all the joy out of your life, dear Virgo!

The new moon of December 24th brings fresh starts and new beginnings as it sits in your happiness sector. The two weeks following this new moon favor moves and fresh starts. New romance, freedom and joy are the key words of the day as you take advantage of this lovely energy, dear Virgo. Some of Uranus' negative energy lingers in the form of trust and financial issues, but this should not stop you from taking a step forward into a new and happy chapter of your life!

The end of the month brings a clash between Mercury and Mars. It seems someone in your private life may be trying to stir up trouble related to real estate and tax/credit/financial issues. Not to worry, dear Virgo. The Sun and Pluto wade into the fracas to provide new creative solutions to your problems and your year ends on positive note of passion, honesty and freedom. 2012 will see you go forth and conquer, dear Virgo!

May you have a Merry Christmas and the happiest of holidays. I wish you joy.

~JP